

Men's House

Yurok Coming Home Houses

The Men's and Women's Coming Home Houses are located on the Yurok Reservation in the townsite of Klamath. Yurok Coming Home Houses are modeled after a traditional Yurok village setting, including peer support, learning from Yurok elders, and supporting wellness through sobriety, healthy food and cultural engagement.

- Men's & Women's House Managers
- Individual Case Workers
- Cultural Activities
- Food Sovereignty

Women's House

Support

Case Management: Case plans include sobriety support, cultural engagement, exit planning and long-term housing, vocational and educational development, community service, financial planning, and substance abuse and/or mental health treatment. Case Workers assist participants to meet probation and parole obligations when necessary.

House Managers: Men's and women's House Managers are consistently present, conduct house meetings, ensure upkeep and cleanliness, and assist with programming and case management.

House Programming: Sobriety and behavioral health groups, individual curriculum and counseling, cultural activities, gardening, and volunteering.

Eligibility

Yurok Community Member: The Houses are available to Yurok Tribal members, Yurok household members (spouses, parents and children of Yurok Tribal members), and non-Yurok community members when appropriate.

Applicant Assessment: Applicants and any children they wish to bring are considered on a case-by-case basis. Factors include criminal history, temperament, commitment to change, and interpersonal dynamics.

Sobriety: Applicants must demonstrate sobriety prior to acceptance, by completing a treatment program or by drug and alcohol screening.

Violent Convictions: People with violent felony convictions and/or pending charges are generally ineligible.

House Rules

House Rules: Current House Rules may be obtained from the Yurok Tribal Court Reentry Program. Applicants must agree to follow House Rules before acceptance into the Coming Home House Program.

Wellness/Reentry Requirements: Participants must be willing to participate in a Wellness or Reentry case plan.

House Schedules: Participants must be in the house from 9pm-7am, unless exceptions are approved. Quiet time is from 11pm to 7am (weekdays) or 8am (weekends). Participants are accountable for their time, including work and school.

Visitors & Overnights: Visits to the House by non-participants (aside from staff or service providers) and overnight visits by participants are allowed with approval by the House Manager.

Drug & Alcohol Monitoring: Coming Home House participants are subject to sweat patch alcohol and drug monitoring, and/or random and on-demand drug screening.

Program Fees: $200 per month. Yurok Tribal members may seek General Assistance to cover this fee.
